What should you do after a flood?

A A A

Listen to the radio for emergency instructions.

Follow established procedures for property damage repairs.

Avoid driving if possible.

For more information about flood safety or the NFIP, please note the following:

http://www.fema.gov /www.fema.gov/ffc9699c-2955-11d8-8f43-0010c9a80808

This information is provided by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) on behalf of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). The information is based on the Federal Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). The NFIP is a program of the Federal Government to provide flood insurance to property owners. The NFIP is managed by USDA and administered by FEA. The NFIP is available to property owners in flood-prone areas who wish to purchase flood insurance. The NFIP is a voluntary program that provides coverage for both property and personal property. The NFIP is available to property owners in flood-prone areas who wish to purchase flood insurance. The NFIP is available to property owners in flood-prone areas who wish to purchase flood insurance. The NFIP is available to property owners in flood-prone areas who wish to purchase flood insurance.

FEMA floodplain management programs help communities reduce the impact of flooding by reducing the risk of flooding and making homes and businesses safer. The National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) is a federal program that provides flood insurance to homeowners and businesses in communities that participate in the program. The NFIP is managed by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and is available to property owners in flood-prone areas who wish to purchase flood insurance. The NFIP is available to property owners in flood-prone areas who wish to purchase flood insurance. The NFIP is available to property owners in flood-prone areas who wish to purchase flood insurance.